STROLLER TRYOUTS FOR "THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR" BEING HELD THIS WEEK

Nearly One Hundred Strollers and Eligibles Try for Leading Roles

MRS. CAVE READS PLAY

Irene McNamara Appointed Publicity Manager for Stroller Club.

"The Thirteenth Chair," by Bayard Veiller, selected by the Stroller Dramatic Club of the University as the play to be given this year was read and interpreted by Mrs. Sallie Bullock Cave Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Little Theater at the University. An audience of about 100 Strollers, Stroller eligibles and a few invited guests heard the reading.

Mr. Burks' idea in requesting this favor of Mrs. Cave was that the novices could get a must better conception of the play as a whole in hearing it read by one so accomplished and with such powers of interpretation. She brought out the fine points of the play and represented each part with her splendid mastery of the art.

"The Thirteenth Chair" has a mystery plot, intricate and exciting. It is pervaded by comedy lines and the appealing element of human interest, making tense and vivid drama.

At the climax the discovery was made that Mr. Sax was sitting in the thirteenth chair of the Little Theater and this was considered a happy augury that the play is to be given with great success by the Strollers, inspired by the artistic reading of Mrs. Cave.

Tryouts for parts in "The Thirteenth Chair" were held every afternoon this week. There are thirteen leading roles

"SIMP" ESTES RESUMES WORK AT UNIVERSITY

Estes Has Been Doing Brilliant Work As Sport Editor on Herald

J. A. (Simp) Estes, Lowes, Ky., whose return to school next semester will be a source of gratification to all. He is by no means a stranger in the University, as Mr. Estes first entered the University two years ago and remained throughout the first semester. His marked ability as a writer attracted the attention of Tom Underwood, the Managing Editor of the Lexington Herald, who invited him to accept a position on that staff as a reporter. Here, through his sheer brilliancy, he soon attained the position of Sport Editor. His excellent work led to a similar call to the staff of the Lexington Leader, but owing to the fact that his afternoon work with this last mentioned publication would interfere with his studies at the University, he was recently obliged to give up this situation, and again connected himself with the Herald. He will continue his work in the Herald while in the University the forthcoming semester, and the students will welcome "Simp" Estes, whose outstanding characteristic of extreme modesty and his recognized ability, marked him as one of the foremost men on the campus.

JIM PARKS WILL BE '22 BASEBALL COACH

Old Time Wildcat Warrior Returns to Direct Diamond Stars

The Board of Trustees this month confirmed the Athletic Council's appointment of James Parks as baseball coach. He will take up his duties about the middle of March.

Jim is an old student of the University graduating from the Law Department in 1920. During his college career he took an active interest in all athletics and was one of Kentucky's startwirlers. After leaving the University he played for some time with the St. Louis Americans. Jim coached Transylvania's football team for several seasons and was Athletic Director of Transylvania in 1918 and 1919. He is thoroughly capable of performing his present duties as baseball coach and all indications point to the success of Baseball Team of 1922.

DEATH CLAIMS YOUNG UNIVERSITY GRADUATE

Dillard Turner, Class of '21, Dies of Pneumonia In Frankfort

Dillard H. Turner, who was a member of the 1921 graduating class of the University of Kentucky, died Saturday January 7 after a brief illness of pneumonia at the home of his parents Judge and Mrs. C. C. Turner of Frankfort.

Dillard was graduated from the Frankfort High School in the class of 1915 and entered the University the following September. He left school in 1917 to join the army serving in the Infantry until the signing of the Armistice. Immediately after his discharge from the army he re-entered the University and received his A. B. degree in 1919. The following year he entered the College of Law, from which he was graduated with the class of 1921. This past autumn he had entered Harvard to continue his studies in Law, and was at his home in Frankfort for the Christmas holidays when taken ill with pneumonia.

During his years at the University of Kentucky Dillard was well known having taken an active part in all University affairs. He was a valuable member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Phi Alpha Delta, honorary law fraternity, the Su-Ky Circle, and Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity. He was the Senior Class Orator and served as the Editor-in-Chief of the Kentucky Law Journal.

Myrtle Clar Elected President of Women's Council

At the regular meeting of the Women's Administration Council held Thursday afternoon John Gresham, president of the Mens' Council met with this organization and affairs of the campus and the point system were discussed.

Sue Boardman, resigned as president of the Council because of the heavy schedule that she is now carrying, and ill health of the last few weeks.

Myrtle Clar, representing Kappa Delta, and women's Pan-Hellenic was unanimously elected president and took charge of the meeting.

The Council will meet with the Mens' Council next Thursday afternoon in the Women's League room in White Hall. Tea will be served after the meeting.

WILDCAT BASKETEERS WILL BATTLE TIGERS IN OPENING CONTEST

Hayden Out With Injured Knee; Ridgeway Suffering From Rheumatism

BURNHAM IS BACK

Georgetown Reported to Have Strong Team

Saturday January 14 will mark the official opening of the Kentucky Basketball Season when the Wildcats meet the Georgetown Tigers on the University Gymnasium floor for the annual fur flying contest. The game will be called at 8 o'clock p. m. and a corps of score keepers with adding machines will be on hand to keep track of the Wildcats' goals.

This, the first game of the season, will be of great interest as everyone is anxious to see if Coach Buchheit's basketballers have lost or gained anything since last season. Two men on the regular squad will be absent from the lineup Saturday. Basil Hayden, who injured his knee some time ago, is still on the sick list and it is uncertain at present when Basil will be back on the squad. This week Coach Buchheit placed another player on his sick list, Sam Ridgeway having the misfortune to be laid up with rheumatism. This illness may keep Sam off the squad for some time. However, the other men are in the pink of condition and have been showing up fine at practice, especially in the scrimmage work. Although Coach Buchheit is not expecting an unusually hard game with Georgetown he is taking no chances and stiff practice and scrimmages had been engaged in all this week in preparation for Saturday's game.

The Georgetown Tigers are reported to have a smooth running team this year having defeated the Frankfort Y. M. C. A. Team 30 to 20. However, when they clash with the Champions of the South of 1921 they will find that there will be a man ready to cope with every play.

The probable lineup for the game is as follows:

Georgetown: Funk, Capt., forward; Daniels, forward; Jacob Center; Porter, guard; Kemper, guard.

Kentucky: Lavin, Cap., guard; Poyntz or Kenneth King forward; Atkins center; Burnham guard; Bill King, forward.

Pat Deveraux will officiate.

MIKADO CAST TO PLAY IN FRANKFORT JAN. 19

Will Give Opera for Entertainment of The Legislature.

The entire cast of the Mikado, ninety-two members, will leave Thursday afternoon, January 19, for Frankfort, where they have been asked to present their members of the Legislature to the Legislature which is now in session. It is hoped that this one phase of the work of the University will favorably impress the members of the legislature to the extent that they will use their power in seeing that the University is given an appropriation sufficient to carry on its work here and make the improvements which are needed. The cast will return to Lexington the evening following the performance. Special arrangements have been made for their transportation.

The Mikado will be given at the Frankfort Opera House under the auspices of the Frankfort Boat Club and the High School Athletic Association.

S. I. A. A. RULES ARE THOSE OF CONFERENCE

Dr. Funkhouser, "Daddy" Boles and H. C. Curtis Attend Meeting

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, Profs. S. A. Boles and H. E. Curtis represented the University of Kentucky at the S. I. A. A. meeting held in Birmingham in December. Several important rules were passed and plans laid out for the present year.

One of the main reasons that prompted the forming of the Southern Conference was the fact that the small colleges had outvoted the larger colleges on eligibility and the one-year rule and this conference of the larger institutions was the inevitable outcome. However at the recent meeting of the S. I. A. A. practically the same rules were adopted that govern the Southern Conference, and now the other institutions of Kentucky that are members of the S. I. A. A. must play under the same rules that the members of the Southern Conference are under. These rules are as ironclad as any of the other Conferences, some of the most important are:

- (1) No one eligible for any varsity athletic in freshman year.
- (2) Anti-migratory rule, once enrolled in a college of the S. I. T. A., shall not be ineligible for athletics in another institution.
- (3) Summer baseball must be played under the A. A. U. rules, no salary at tachments, expenses only can be re-

Sponsors Receive Commissions at Hop

A feature of the Hop of Saturday afternoon, January 7, in the Armory, was the presentation of commissions by Colonel George D. Freeman, to the six newly elected sponsors of this semester. The girls who received commissions were Elizabeth Kimbrough, major sponsor, Nell Gingles, Nan Chenault, Margaret Lavin, Lillian Rasch, Martha Pate and Elizabeth Carey all First Lieutenants.

The hop was the second of the season and was well attended. The cadet officers and sponsors were the hosts for the afternoon and were assisted in entertaining by Colonel Freeman, Major Tucker, Captain Bethurum, Captain and Mrs. Marsh and Miss Marguerite Laughlin.

LEGISLATURE CONVENES WITH FORMER 'KENTUCKY' STUDENTS IN THE RANKS

Requests To Be Made For Appropriations to Cover Needs of University

$8,000,000 NEEDED

First Woman Member Attended U. of K.

The 1922 Kentucky Legislature has convened with the largest number of former students of the University of Kentucky in its ranks that has ever been assembled there. These "Kentucky" men and woman represent classes from '82 to '22, the youngest being Beryl Boyd who will receive his degree from the College of Law in June.

Although the session has barely gotten under way there is evidence of some very constructive legislation to come out of it, in which the University alumni are to take a prominent part.

The first woman member of the Kentucky Legislature, Mrs. Mary Elliott Flanery, of Catlettsburg, is a former student of the University. To her was awarded the honor of presiding at the first session of the solons at Frankfort, the caucus of Democratic members of the House. His election was unanimous. Sharing partially the recognition through Mrs. Flanery of woman's rights in the state was Miss Jeanette Rankin, of Montana, the first woman member of the Congress of the United States.

"Kentucky" Alumni Present.

The other "Kentucky" representatives in the Legislature are Senator J. Will Stoll, of Lexington; and Representatives Joe F. Bosworth, of Middlesboro; W. Ray Button, of Bedford; John E. Brown, of Shelbyville; Beryl Boyd, of Mayfield; Emery L. Frazier, of Lawrence-

RADIO STATION HERE IS LARGEST IN STATE

Office in Civil Building Hears Wireless Messages And Music

The university Radio Station, 9YC, is now the largest and best equipped radio station in this State. The spark transmitter has been heard in every state east of the Great Plains. The receiving apparatus is of the latest and best improved type and is capable of receiving spark stations, continuous wave stations and wireless phones. The music via wireless phone, with as much volume as comes from an Edison phonograph. This music has been heard with remarkable clearness all over the Civil Building and on the campus adjacent.

This station is one of the best publicity agents in operation at the University. Persons in distant states who never heard of the University of Kentucky before are now familiar with it because of the Radio Station. The Radio News Service sent out from the Station every Friday night gets its information from the Kernel Office. The week before Christmas a large portion of U. of K. news appeared in the official paper of Purdue University, this news being picked up by the station at Purdue.

CAMPUS CHATTER

The Advisory Board of the Y. M. C. A. which is composed of business men, faculty and students, met last Thursday in the Y. M. C. A. room.

Dr. Benjamin Bush was the speaker last Sunday evening at one of the largest and best attended joint meetings of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. held this school year. His subject was "The Power of the Average."

Doctor Bush said in part; "None of us like to think that we are average. Freshmen always think that they know more than Seniors do, but not to know is to begin to know."

"Only a very few leaders came out of the world war. There is a new value placed on the work of the average individual. However, sometimes the average folk forget to be faithful to their average duties."

Doctor Bush then told a story of a genius who took the place of just an average boy who died and thus accomplished a great life work. In conclusion he said "We never know when in somebody else we are going to fulfill a great mission."

ADVANCE DATES

Pre - Wed. Meeting: Wednesday, January 18 at 3:30 p. m. Every member asked to be present.

Several valuable and handsomely bound books have recently been received by the University Library, among which are a number of volumes of Country Life in America, of the Century and McClure's, an especially beautiful volume entitled Concealing Coloration in the Animal Kingdom, by Thayer. Also, One Thousand American Fungi, by Charles Melville and Robert K. Macadam. All of these books have gorgeously colored, plates, the colors blending beautifully, and are especially helpful to the students of Zoology, for whom they were purchased.

The History of Modern Painting, a set of four handsome volumes, with colored half-tones of modern paintings of the famous artists, beginning with Hogarth and closing with Von Hoffman, add much to the valuable collection of the University in this line.

Other recent additions to the Library are: Some interesting local history material, Must We Fight Japan? by Walter B. Pitkin, Moonbeams from the Larger Lunacy, by Stephen Leacock, and a book by Henry A. Frank, Working North from Patagonia. The latter named book is illustrated with pictures which were taken by Mr. Franck when he made his recent journey around the world, working his way as he went, and venturing to go some places where no white man had been before.

The Men's Glee Club met Tuesday afternoon and discussed plans for the spring tour. The Men's Glee Club, which was largely involved in the successful production of the Mikado, is now to give special attention to the building up of the program for the annual tour.

The nucleus of the Glee Club this year consists of all of the men who were here last year, with the exception of three. From all indications there will be an exceedingly fine and versatile club this year. Many requests have already come in for return engagements at towns where the club gave concerts last year.

Plans are being made to organize a council similar to the Athletic Council. This council will serve the musical and other organizations with a view to sending them out into the state underauspices which will guarantee the greatest amount of success for the expenditure of effort involved.

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its first meeting of the New Year Thursday evening at the Education building. Experiences in a feeble-minded institute was ably discussed by Charles Hubbard, a delightful humorous sketch read by Clifford Stanfill, and Myrtle Moore gave a series of the most interesting current events of the past week.

Thursday evening, January 19, promises to be an unusually interesting meeting of the society, when Jim Server and Dewey Welsh, affirmative, will debate F. Z. Monarch and Mr. Daniels negative, on the subject: Resolved that the United States should retain the "Dillingham Immigration Bill" for twenty years." An original story will be read by Elsie Raeke and Clay Porter will give a reading.

The students and faculty are invited to attend this meeting of the only co-ed literary society on the campus, which meets every Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Education building.

The University Women's club will hold its first meeting of the New Year in the recreation room of Patterson Hall 8:30 p. m. Friday January 13. Professor Hines of the English department will lecture on the Italian Renaissance.

Dean Paul P. Boyd will be the speaker at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held at Patterson Hall next Sunday evening at 6:30. An added attraction of this interesting meeting will be a solo by Martha McClure.

Kawanis Club Pledges

The three-day campaign for European Student Relief started Tuesday morning on the campus and gave promise of terminating successfully under the direction of Dean Jewell, chairman, assisted by Bart Peak and Miss Sharp. Executive work was done by a committee of representative students, the chairmen of which were the following class officers: Robert Lavin, Margaret Barbison, Sam Ridgeway, Fannie Summers Tarleton, Elenor Morse, Dan Morse, Adelaide Longest, William Ferguson, and Martha Bedford.

The aim of the movement is to aid those who must struggle against greatest odds for an education, by giving more fortunate students an opportunity to help in whatever degree they can. Their need is pressing and worthy. Many are underfed, poorly clothed, and injured in health, but nevertheless struggling on. Relief is under auspices of the World Student Christian Federation, represented in America by the Student Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and Student Volunteer Movement, and is being conducted on sound economic lines.

The drive at this University closed Thursday evening, but those still desiring to make contributions may send them through Miss Jewell. Before February 1.

The subscriptions from faculty members up to Wednesday noon totaled $64.50, this amount being from only seven persons. The faculty committee on the campaign is composed of the following: Professors Holmes, Wolfe, Nichols, Kelly, Anderson, Grehan, Elliott, Bureau, McLaughlin, and Fling.

State Health Exhibit at Louisville Soon

The Department of Health will hold a State Health Exhibit at Louisville Feb. 1-9. Plans are being made to make the exhibit the largest of its kind ever held in the United States and the U. S. Health Service is cooperating with the movement in every respect. Dr. Pryor, Dr. Scherago, and Dr. Holmes will represent the University at the exhibit. A large attendance is expected, especially from the southern states.

The Romance Language Club will have its first meeting of the year next Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Professor Zembrod's room in the Administration building. All students who are taking any of the Romance languages are urged to be present.

Alumni Notes

Nominations for new officers of the Alumni Association are to be made by March 1 by a committee to be named soon by Rodman Wiley, president, but in the meantime any alumni club, class or group of ten alumni members may make nominations for any office. Such nominations must be referred to the nominating committee or the association secretary.

The officers to be elected, to take office in June, are president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and two new members of the executive committee. The balloting will be by mail.

The terms of Dodman Wiley, '06, Winchester, president, Louis E. Hillenmeyer, '07, vice president, and Herbert Graham, '16, secretary and treasurer, will expire in June. Present members of the executive committee, two of whom are to be replaced, are Howard West, '05, Miss Lullie Logan, '13, E. B. Webb, '10, Dr. George Wilson, '04, Wayland Rhoads, '15, and Headley Shouse, '19.

Strength of the 28 Kentucky alumni clubs in various sections of the country varies from eleven to 66 per cent in the number of graduates and former students enrolled who are available, a recent alumni association bulletin shows. The lowest club in point of numerical strength is that at Richmond, where at present three of a possible 26 are enrolled, while at Carrollton the highest percentage is reached, with eight of a possible twelve active members of the club. The Lexington club is the strongest in point of numbers, with 124 enrolled, but the percentage is only 24, as 505 former students and graduates are eligible, the records show.

The alumni association is much stronger numerically and actively now than at any time in its history, figures compiled by the secretary the first of last month show. The number who had paid dues December 1 was listed at 632, but since that time the total has reached 650, exceeding the final mark of 647 active members for 1920-21. Alumni clubs now number 28 as compared with the two of two years ago.

The class of '09 is the strongest in the list a table of the standing of the classes shows. Out of the 66 living members on December 1, 26 were active, giving a percentage of 39. The class of '18, marshalled by Charles Planck, Detroit, is a close second, with 39 of the 102 living members active, a percentage of 38. Of those who paid dues to the association in 1920-21, 185 had not renewed December 1.

Lexington Club to Elect

The Lexington Alumni Club will elect new officers at a luncheon Friday, January 20, at noon at the Phoenix hotel. The legislative program of the University will be brought up for discussion at that time.

Nominations are to be made this week by a committee named by Bill Combs, president, composed of Owen Reynolds, '15, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, '03, Joe C. Delong, ex-'13, Lawrence J. Heyman, '16, and Frank McCarthy. The program committee, consisting of McClarty Harbison, '17, and Nancy Innes, '17, will name a number of other members to aid in preparation of a live program.

Kernel Four Months Late

W. Hays may have done something to improve the mail services of this country when he took office as Postmaster General last March, but his alleged efficient hand evidently hasn't touched the rural free delivery in Africa. From "Jungle Town" comes the news that on October 9 L. E. Smith '11, received his copy of the commencement number of the Kernel issued June 14 last year.

Mr. Smith, who is at the medical mission at Rio Banito, Gunder Estanola, Africa, writes: "It is always pleasant to have a breath from the old place that means so much to us all, and we who are far away feel the more keenly our loss of all the social relations that help to keep our lives from the drudge of the routine labors of life."

"There are many changes taking place there, and no doubt there will soon be an entirely new faculty, but change as it may it will even be like the 'Irishman's Knife' that had been treated to three new blades and four new handles, but it was the same old knife. So with dear old 'State', (as we all used to call it): Change all the faculty, change the place all you can to keep it up with the progress of time in its mighty stride, yet to us of the days gone by it will be the part of the place that is human, has woven itself into us that it can never change and the voice of it calls to us the world over."

Mr. Waller, '14, is in the Department of Botany of the Ohio State University.

To Class of 1905

New Year's Greetings. Let us all turn over a new leaf and work for a higher class percentage of active members, and a bigger and better and more active alumni association. Our class had 17 active members in 1920-21 and 18 members on December 1, 1921, a gain of only one. Let us do better this year. Suppose we adopt the slogan, "Every member get a member."—H. G. Edwards. Betwixt Us

"The Kentucky-Sewanee football game was a splendid exhibition of football and Kentucky lost absolutely nothing by defeat," in the opinion of Helen L. McCandless, '08. "I am back in the East again and will ask that you please have my copies of the Kernel sent to 750 Frelinghuysen avenue, Newark, N. J."—R. L. Jones, '12, writes. Captain Edward Ellershaw, '89, is in London, England, at 22 Sandringham Road, (Golder's Green), according to word received by Dr. A. M. Peter. Captain Ellershaw wrote of the troubles the English and the sojourners in the tight little island are having with high taxes, high rents and the high cost of living and of traveling, which evidently are much worse than in America. He inquired about a number of old friends.

"I am supposing that alumni dues are two dollars again this year. I am sending you a check for that amount," writes Miss Lora Lee Robertson, '20, from Nevada, Mo. She is head of the Department of Science at Cottey Junior College for Women there.

"I get the Kernel regularly, and am interested in it, especially in the Alumni Notes," says Paul I. Murrill, '95. "My present business connecting is that of Chemical Engineer and consulting chemist for the Middlesex Aniline Company, Lincoln, N. J., and for the R. T. Vanderbilt Company, of 50 East 42nd street, New York. Have recently bought a house at 960 West Seventh street, N. J., which I expect to occupy early in April, so that will be my permanent address after that time."

"Every few days I manage to find enough extra coin of the realm to buy some gasoline for my car from Proctor Knott Smiley, B. C. E., '07, I think, and he and I have a good laugh over his being an engineer and operating an automobile service station, while I, an electrical engineer, am in newspaper work," L. Chauncey Brown, '06, writes from St. Petersburg, Fla., where he is connected with the Evening Independent. "But at that," he continues, "we have to agree that we are doing fairly well in our work in new lines in a new location, and are able now and then to do something that is for the good of our community, which, after all, is the most important thing a man has the opportunity to do. This however is the extent of Kentucky University alumni club work in this locality."

"Please address the Kernel to me at 1904 Jefferson avenue, Toledo, O.," writes R. N. O'Hara, '21. He is an engineer with the Andrews Asphalt Paving Company, of Hamilton, O.

"Please change my address from Y. W. C. A., Cleveland, O., to 353 Aylesford Place, Lexington," are instructions from Virginia Taylor Graham, '19.

The new address of Theo Slade, '11, is Cantoe Kansas Gas and Electric Company, Wichita, Kansas. He was formerly district manager of the company and located at Eldorado, Kansas.

Class and Fraternity Teams Are Organized

Class teams have been organized and are now practicing regularly. The freshmen have already two games scheduled for their season, the first with the Georgetown freshmen and the second game with Kentucky Wesleyan's first team. The exact dates of these games have not been set.

"Daddy" Boles reports that the fraternity teams have been organized and are practicing regularly, but that they will not begin their regular season until after the beginning of the second semester. No games for these fraternity teams or for the other class teams have been scheduled so far.

JANUARY 13, 1922

The Kernel wishes to apologize for the delay of last week's issue. But owing to the fact that the University did not open until Tuesday, January 3, it was impossible to get out an issue until the following Saturday at noon. Yet we ask you to observe the fact that last Saturday's issue was the first published the following week after the Holidays in the history of the Kentucky Kernel.

"THE KING IS DEAD—LONG LIVE THE KING"

Once more old king football has been forced to take a seat in the rear of the hall and give place to the sprightly frolics of youthful baseball. The net game has never been more popular in the University than it was last year and what else could be expected after the showing made by the Wildcats on the courts of the South?

Last year the University five out-classed anything in the country. They did not claim the championship of the world however, merely of the South and it was undisputed. Kentucky entered the tournament at Atlanta as dark horses. No one thought much about them winning the coveted cup. Most of the critics would have nothing else than that Georgia could not be defeated but the game lads from the fighting state of old Kentucky thought otherwise and said nothing. Their chance came after coming through the semi-finals without a scratch and the insurmountable obstacle was overcome when the Blue of Kentucky triumphed over the Crimson of Georgia and five of the happiest men in the world were carried off the court to receive the silver loving cup denoting the Championship of the entire South.

When they returned to Lexington there was not a Kentucky student who did not turn out in a driving rain-storm and welcome the heroes home. There was more spirit showed in Lexington that night than ever before and it was spontaneous. No one had to coax it to appear but the difficulty lay in keeping it under control so that there would be enough of the town left the next morning to recognize it. Happily no damage was done and a banquet was given to the champions at the Phoenix where students flocked by the hundreds until many of them had to be turned away for lack of space.

What will be the result this year? Are we going to let the splendid spirit which developed itself last year die out? If we do we are not worthy to be represented by the team that bears our colors. The same men are on the team this year that won honors for us last year. They have had the advantage of more experience and skill than ever before and all they need to win another championship is our well merited support. It is our duty as well as our privilege to attend all the games and show as much enthusiasm at the beginning of the season as we showed at the end of the last and we should not let down, even if the team has hard luck and by some unforeseen accident loses a game.

It is easy to get behind a winning team and stay there. That is the kind of a team we will have this year and it is up to us to do our bit and help the old team on to another glorious triumph. Let's all turn out big for the opening game and when the blue sweated athletes trot out on the floor let's turn loose a yell that will let them know that we are there in force and raising hell.

Mrs. Emily Clay Bedinger is in charge of the household.

Two replies have been received by the General Assembly of the University, to letters sent to members of the Disarmament Conference in Washington, endorsing the purpose of the commission. The letters which were addressed to the committee appointed to draft the resolutions, are as follows:

"I am directed by the Secretary of State, Chairman of the Conference, who is in receipt of the resolutions of the General Assembly of the University of Kentucky dated November 30th, to request you to inform the members of the General Assembly of the University that due consideration is being given to the suggestions advanced in their resolutions, and to express to them his sincere appreciation of the interest which they have evinced therein, I am, Sir,
Yours very truly,
J. QUTES HUGHES,
J. Butler Wright, Secretary.

CENTRE VETOES S. I. A. A. RULING

Danville, Ky., Jan. 11.—Students of Centre College today voted unanimously against the rule of Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, prohibiting freshmen from taking part in athletics. After chapel evensizes Tuesday Ben Cregor, president of the senior class called a meeting of the student body and took a vote on the question.

Strong sentiment also was expressed among the students for George Colvin, State School Superintendent, to be president of Centre, to take the place of Dr. W. A. Ganfield who resigned several months ago to accept presidency of Carroll College at Waukesha, Wis. Mr. Colvin has not as yet indicated his intentions concerning the matter. But the boys of Centre are calling "we want a president."

A special tryout for those who did not become eligible to the organization earlier in the year, was held Monday afternoon and the following were admitted, and now have the privilege of trying for a part in the play: Nell Gingles, Taylor Harris, John Whitaker, Olivia Smith, Grace Barnes, Tom Brooks and Elizabeth Holmes. The judges were John Burks, Katherine Conroy and George Rouse.

Irene McNamara, has been appointed Publicity Manager of the Stroller Club for the coming year and will handle news and advertising matter for the club used in the Kentucky Kernel, local papers and in the towns in which the production will be given. Miss McNamara, who is now Managing Editor of the Kentucky Kernel, acted as assistant publicity manager last year.

ceived and this not to exceed $7.00 per day.

(4) The eligibility ruling of graded which were based on semester hours before, has been changed so that the Registrar must certify that the members of the athletics teams have passed from one year to the next satisfactorily, that is, if a Junior in '21 must be a full Senior in '22. These rules went into effect on January 1, 1922.

LEGISLATURE CONVENES

burg; Harry B. Miller, of Lexington; Arch L. Hamilton, of Fayette County; E. A. Gullion, of New Castle; Rufus Lisle, of Nicholasville, and James Park, of Richmond.

The University's legislative program centers about the appropriation bill which should be reported to the Assembly by the Budget Commission about January 25. This Commission composed of Governor Edwin P. Morrow, Auditor John J. Craig and Rainey T. Wells, chairman of the State Tax Commission, is at work now on the schedule of appropriations. The University is asking for an increase of approximately $500,000 for the first year of the biennium and a slightly smaller sum for the second year. The revenue of the state for the year ending June 30, 1921 was approximately $3,000,000 more than appropriations made by the 1920 Assembly. The revenue accruing from the present tax rate for the next fiscal year is estimated at a considerable increase over the last.

Friends of the University are placing their hopes for an increased appropriation on the already increased state revenue and the prospect of additional income on the equalization of the tax assessment. It is indicated that the mineral wealth of the state will be assessed at a much higher valuation. This would reach most of the so-called pauper counties. No definite proposals have been made yet for providing the money for the University's ten-year building program.

Needs are Essential

Requests of this Legislature include only what the Board of Trustees and the President have estimated as "absolutely essential." The main items are the following additional sums: $100,000 for maintenance and operation including additional teachers; $100,000 (one half) for a woman's dormitory; $100,000 (one half) for a men's dormitory; $50,000 for an addition to the Chemistry building; $30,000 for a building for the gift of Henry Wendt, president of the Buffalo Forge Company, who has donated equipment for a complete forge shop; $20,000 for buildings to house a cavalry unit of the R. O. T. C.; $20,000 for additional lands for the University; $50,000 for the Experiment Station and $50,000 for farm lands for the Experiment Station.

Survey Commission To Be Heard

The Board of Trustees has a hearing before the State Budget Commission. Friends of the institution have talked with the Budget commissioners individually and are continuing to do so. A hearing is planned for the University Commission which made a survey in May 1921 of the state Universities of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin after going over the plant of the University of Kentucky. They made recommendations for an $8,000,000 building program to be completed by the year 1930. Those interested in higher education in Kentucky have not been idle in the last few weeks and a greatly increased activity is planned to precede the final passage of the appropriations bill.

Apparatus for a high-powered wireless telephone arrived and in the near future the University will be known by its wireless phone concerts.

The operators of the station are Jas. E. Wilkins of Hopkinsville, a junior in the College of Engineering and Stuart Gates of Louisville, a freshman in the same college. Both men intend to take up Radio Engineering when they finish their course here and are trying to get a good working knowledge of the subject while they are here.

An invitation to visit the station and see a real radio station in operation is extended to the general public. Also if anyone has a friend or parent to which he would like to send a greeting or a message of any other kind, if he will give it to either of the operators or leave it at the station together with the return address, and phone number the message will be transmitted free of charge and the answer sent to you on its arrival.

PARKS AND FRAZIER ON K. U. COMMITTEE

Alumni of University Representatives From Madison and Anderson Counties

Announcements of committees of the Legislature made by Speaker Thompson of the Lower House disclose that James Park, Madison county and Emery Frazier Anderson county, both former students of the University have been placed upon the committee on the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Park was graduated from the University with a B. S. degree in the class of 1915, and received his Law degree in 1920. Mr. Frazier studied law in the University and was recently admitted to the bar. Both these young men are making careful study of conditions in the University preparatory to handling the matter when it comes up for final report to the Legislature.

Winding high voltage insulation, 1894—

Winding high voltage insulation, 1921—

Charles E. Skinner

WHAT is insulation?—a necessary evil;—the insulation engineer?—likewise a necessary evil;—such, too often, was the oldtime formula. What wonder, with such a stigma, that the vast majority of budding engineers of bygone years side-stepped that branch of the electrical art which was in such ill-repute.

Fortunately, a few far-visioned young men of unusual caliber saw the great possibilities in this field of endeavor and concentrated many of their best years upon it. Foremost among these few who have developed the insulation problem to a leading position in the art, stands Charles E. Skinner, the head of the Research Department of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.

For over thirty years, Mr. Skinner has been delving into the whys and wherefores of the insulation problem, from extreme theoretical studies to the most practical applications. His work began at a time when there were no theories worth while to consider, and when there were no methods worth while to work with. It was not only necessary to develop the insulation art from the ground up, but all the tools of attack had to be developed, and this latter means far more than mere words can convey.

As an insulation engineer, Mr. Skinner has always faced the necessity of utilizing a great array of materials which are inferior in mechanical characteristics to those of the rest of the structure, such as papers, fibers, cottons, fabrics, mica, varnishes, asphaltums, oils, and various other unmechanical materials. Such materials are practically all affected, or destroyed, by undue heat. Many of them are easily penetrated by moisture, the arch enemy of insulation. Practically none of these materials individually is ideal for the purpose desired, nor are they perfect in combination. Consequently, the history of insulation is a story of struggle, of frequent disappointment, and oft-times mysterious failure.

It is now fully realized that the insulation engineer is a vital and constructive factor in the development of the electrical art. With the great advances in recent years his high position in the art is becoming more and more recognized, as the difficulties of his problems are better realized. It may be said truly, that the high position of the Westinghouse Company is due, to a large extent, to the far reaching accomplishments of its insulation engineers, of whom Mr. Skinner is the leading exponent.

JUDGE LAFFERTY HAS COMPLETED TEXBOOK

Judge W. T. Lafferty, Dean of the College of Law, has received final proofs of a work prepared by him entitled "A Practice Court Manual" which is to be used by students in the third year course as a text in teaching practice and also as a handbook for young lawyers.

The Manual outlines the work by giving the simplest features of practice and then continues it by a system of graduation which covers the entire field of practice through the Kentucky Court of Appeals. While prepared primarily to enable young lawyers to avoid the usual embarrassments which confront them in addition it shows them how to apply their knowledge in the profession and is also of practical use to students.

The Manual which covers about seventy-five pages is to be completed within the next ten days and will be used in the second semester's work.

All games played on gymnasium floor will be called at 4:30 p. m. Class cards determine to which class you belong. The winning team will be awarded numerals and sweaters. Any team not having team ready to compete on day of game will forfeit game.

Date For The Clash is Jan. 17 Vanderbilt the Following Night

The Wildcat Basketball Squad will leave here Tuesday January 17 for Louisville. The squad will leave Union Station Tuesday morning with Coach Buchheit in charge. The names of the men who will make the trip could not be given out at this time, but it is certain that two men from the regular lineup will be absent, Hayden and Ridgway still being on the sick list.

The game with the University of Louisville will be called at 8 o'clock P. M. No unusual opposition is anticipated from Louisville but they are expected to put up a hard battle.

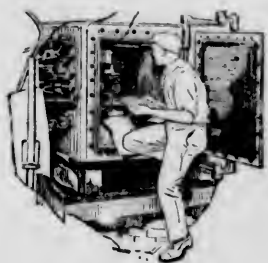

After the game with Louisville Tuesday night the team will journey to Nashville to meet Vanderbilt Wednesday evening January 18. This game will be the hardest one so far this season, Vanderbilt having all of last year's men back and the game following the next night after the Wildcats' clash with Louisville. Vanderbilt is using the five men defense system which is being developed under the guidance of Coach Wade who coached this year's football team. The Wildcats will also be handicapped by the absence of two of their first squad players. However this is not causing any worry on the part of the Wildcat squad, the players thriving on this kind of work, and they promise to bring home the bacon.

COACH BUCHHEIT

George Buchheit was the Coach of last season's Wildcat basketball team and the development of an all Southern Championship team belonged to his credit. Knowing his ability as a coach we can easily expect a winning team this season.

What Is a Vacuum Furnace?

IN an ordinary furnace materials burn or combine with the oxygen of the air. Melt zinc, cadmium, or lead in an ordinary furnace and a scum of "dross" appears, an impurity formed by the oxygen. You see it in the lead pots that plumbers use.

In a vacuum furnace, on the contrary, the air is pumped out so that the heated object cannot combine with oxygen. Therefore in the vacuum furnace impurities are not formed.

Clearly, the chemical processes that take place in the two types are different, and the difference is important. Copper, for instance, if impure, loses in electrical conductivity. Vacuum-furnace copper is pure.

So the vacuum furnace has opened up a whole new world of chemical investigation. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have been exploring this new world solely to find out the possibilities under a new series of conditions.

Yet there have followed practical results highly important to industry. The absence of oxidation, for instance, has enabled chemists to combine metals to form new alloys heretofore impossible. Indeed, the vacuum furnace has stimulated the study of metallurgical processes and has become indispensable to chemists responsible for production of metals in quantities.

And this is the result of scientific research.

Discover new facts, add to the sum total of human knowledge, and sooner or later, in many unexpected ways practical results will follow.

Shown above is a picture of the noted editor of this section although, now an alumnus of the University, having been graduated in June 1921, he continues to lend his talent, brilliance cleverness and what not to this Column of the Kernel. Mr. Cameron is at present securing a livelihood by selling patent medicines to the alling people of Lexington and thereabouts.

A Form of Beauty.

You have no doubt been told by some high brow instructor during your stay in this place where boys are turned out unfinished products, girls are just emlitted, and sham, brass, and bull get by, that anything which agreeably increases our consciousness is a form of beauty.

When you attend a dance, hear the music, one ragging discord after another, smell the perfume, see the frills and ruffles and dace with your hearts desire are you aware that life is sweet and that this old blue blood is red and pulsing? So are we. If you aren't the apex is got you!

While attending one of these "Hugging Festivals," as the Womans Christian Teetotalism Union would call it, thoughts ramble through your brain like goats over a stable roof. You think a million things, or at least your spinal cord reacts and you are happy or at least enjoying this form of beauty.

Bunch of stags at bay, crowding the door way. Um quite a crowd here tonight. Girl smiling at me and on the campus she hardly speaks. I'll let her stay stuck with that bird and get sweet revenge. Curses! Curses! Pardon me, bump, bump, bump—reminds me of the sidewalk in front of the ten cent store. By the way, what has become of the old blind beggar woman who used to play her fiddle so incessantly?

Third no break. Guess I had better find me a seat and watch the animals for a while. Someone must have given the musicians some of the vile juice. "They're strutting their stuff," as the vulgar boys in the pool rooms say. A pretty ankle. What is prettier than pretty ankles? To me they express a myriad of things; beauty, strength, sincerity, life, happiness, wealth or poverty, personality and something else, I've forgotten. To the pop eyes on Main street what is their meaning?

Girl laughing on boys shoulder. Appears to be used to it. How daintily she giggles. Underskirt showing two inches or more. Wonder if she knows it. Is it coming down? I'll wait until she dances around again and see.

I expect I had better dance a while. A soft hand the most delightful of a career. Bump, sea is rather rough tonight, too many waves, not permanent. Someone is breaking. Beautiful face and bulkish body. Why don't some people swap faces with others for bodies. A pity that there are so few beautiful girls. I saw one once. She married. Tears, tears.

Oh, I've forgotten to dance with her. Have you been eating onions? Hope I don't get stuck. I'll always be a friend to that boy. Watch me play the artist and draw a fair and radiant maiden—to my side. Ye God! Its heaven to dance with the owner of that hand again, brings back fond memories, mistletoe was absent and everything.

What time is it? 11:30! Where were my thoughts? Oh yes, there goes that yellow underskirt, no I believe it is still two inches too low. Should have been in bed an hour ago, Sleep Sleep, Sleep.

So home and to bed, and dreamed about a yellow underskirt or are they called petticoats?

Did you ever notice how deceptive fifteen cents worth of rouge and a little cloth, very little, will make a girl appear.

A fool and his money are soon married.

Girls do not use lip stick—boys think it very distasteful.

Ever have her mother to come down stairs about 10:30 and say, "Why daughter what's the matter with your hair?" Ever feel like a fool?

In Japan, widows do up their hair in a peculiar style which also signifies whether they care to marry again or not. Over here they bob it.

NOTICE—In the next issue of the Kernel will appear two love letters. One written from Napoleon to his Josephine and the other written from a girl to a boy. They have asked that their names be withheld. 'Comparisons will be "odorous," old Banaparte was supposed to be some lover, too.)

She Ought to Make the Team.

A great many comments have been made by the fair sex on the try outs for the rifle team. One of them informs us that the only thing she can shoot is a fine and she never hits anything with that.

A Rifle Team for the Ladies—God Bless 'em.

The fair co-eds from the University of Maine have challenged our women students to hold a rifle contest with them. Of course it is well known how well the Kentuckians can shoot but who ever thought our fair womanhood would ever be called upon to uphold the standards of the state with the old trusty squirrel gun.

At present there is no organized rifle team among the women students of the University although it is rumored that several of the more ambitious sponsors have frequented the armory recently and given their time to the red blooded sport of target practice. It is an admirable thing in a woman to know how to shoot straight for many a wife has missed her fond spouse due to an ill aimed shot. Then again the old family rolling pin makes such an ugly wound and the husband has a chance to recover.

There are a great many of our co-eds who should develop into expert riflewomen from the line which they are continually shooting to the unsuspecting boys. Only the environments would have to be changed from their accustomed range from the shadows around Patt Hall to the day light of the target range.

The experiment of a female rifle team should prove a marvelous success and will, no doubt, be very popular among the girls for they would all have the chance to respond to the call to arms—without having to leave school for it.

As a follow up of the rifle team the girls should organize a boxing team and a wrestling team although most of them should be proficient in the latter art after attending the struggles at the hops and dances held about the campus. A girl's acrobatic team should also develop from the dancing as it is done.

The orchestra speeds up, the bundle of lovely femininity held close in the manly arms of her hero becomes imbued with the spirit of the fray. They skip, they leap, they whirl as could no oriental dervisher and proceed to stage as artistic exhibition of harmonious gymnastics as was ever seen on the Ben Ali platform. Any girl that can go through all the motions that some of them have to in order to keep up with their leather buttoned dancing partners is capable of giving Strangler Lewis instruction in the gentle art of wrestling.

But let us not stray from the theme of the shootin' match. Let them shoot and teach them how to shoot straight. For safety's sake teach them how to handle a rifle understandingly lest we all be killed when they begin handling the weapons. First thing you know one of the fair sex will be seen loafing in front of the Lexington Drug, a cigarette in one side of her ruby mouth, a cud of Pipe Heidsieke in the other puffing out a fair cheek of the most velvety skin with a two weeks growth of beard, a pint flask of Bulldog whiskey on her hip (whiskey so named because it would make a rabbit spit in a bull dog's face) a pair of shape-ly calves encased in leather boots—and a Winchester slung over her shoulder where once we were only too glad to hang our fevered jowl as we skimmed to the weird strains of a jazz band.

Committee Named

The appropriations committee of the House of Representatives was named by Speaker J. H. Thompson as follows:

C. A. Nelson, chairman; Samuel Adams, C. W. Bennett, H. C. Hawkins, H. R. Lawrence, Lester Jeter, F. C. Van Hoose, J. L. Richardson, and A. E. Nelson.

Subscriptions to the Kernel of all alumni who have not paid dues for the year expire this month.

Kittens Will Meet Wesleyan at Winchester To-Night

The Kittens will leave Friday afternoon for Winchester where they will play the first basketball game of the season with Wesleyan's quintet, at 7:30 Friday night. The game will be a hard battle for Kentucky's girls as Wesleyan has had practically the same team for several years. The probable lineup will be:

Potter, center Jameson, and Stevenson, forwards and Morris and Wilson, guards. Felsenthal, Platts, Smith, and Black will be substitutes.

NOTICE

All men in the University who have attended Culver Military Academy or Culver Summer School are invited to attend an organization meeting of Culver men of Central Kentucky at the Lexington Y. M. C. STUDENT RELIEF FUND PLANNED BY Y. M. C. A.

Dr. H. C. Gossard Conducts Campaign In University; Benefit Foreign Students

Doctor H. C. Gossard of the International Y. M. C. A. spoke in Chapel Tuesday morning in the interest of the Foreign Student Relief Fund for which the Y. M. C. A. is conducting a campaign at the University of Kentucky this week. Doctor McVey conducted the devotional exercises and introduced the speaker.

Doctor Gossard spent a large part of the past summer in the various countries of Europe and studied their economic and political situation. His remarks were concerning the European situation as a whole and the status of republics which changed governments during the war. He mentioned especially the student class of Europe which is depending on the aid from the other parts of the world in order to continue their education. The responsibility to this class greater than to any other because from it will come the future leaders of Europe. Students from all over the world have responded liberally to the Relief Fund and it seems very consistent that the students of the United States should do the same when they are fortunate enough to be living in the most prosperous land in the world.

WOMENS STUDENTS HEAR MISS BENNETT IN CHAPEL

Says Healthy Bodies, Sound Muscles and Mind Bring Success

Outlining the part to be played by the women of America in the life of the country during the next few years, and advising that careers should be selected after careful consideration of one's qualifications, Miss Helen Bennett of Chicago, director of the Collegiate Bureau of Occupation, addressed the members of the Woman's League of the University at Patterson Hall Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock. Miss Bennett was the principal speaker at a dinner given by the Central Kentucky American Association of University Women.

According to Miss Bennett each woman should answer three questions in selecting a life-work: "Do you want it? Can you do it? Is it practical?" the decision, however, is only one of the many important factors in procuring a successful career, and women, whether entering professional work, industrial work, or home-making, should carry with them, healthy bodies, sound morals and sound minds. They should strive for accuracy and for the ability to work together with the efficiency of cooperation.

Wednesday morning, Miss Bennett addressed all women students of the University in chapel, after which she was the guest of the women faculty members at a luncheon served in the University Cafeteria.

Speaking before the women students and faculty members of the University Wednesday morning at the fifth hour, Miss Helen Bennett director of the Collegiate Bureau of Occupation at Chicago, said that when the college girl has decided on her future vocation she should ask herself three questions: First, "Is the job I have selected a good and desirable job? Does it offer either good training or prospects for advance?" Second, "Does it pay a living wage?" Every girl who is willing to work for less than a decent wage is making it harder for every other girl to command as much as she is worth, and Third, "Does it offer an opportunity for service?"

The occupation bureau has found that the fields in which there are the most constant calls for women are the fields of teaching, social work, nursing, household science, library work and secretarial work. New fields of work spring up overnight and attract attention because work. New fields of work spring up they are new. A great many of such have sprung up during the recent war and died down afterwards.

"Special training is demanded in almost every line of work," Miss Bennett said. "If you have no specific training select a job for which you can be trained in the doing."

Summing up her remarks, in conclusion, she said that the following things are essential to every woman in business: special training, if the position requires it; health; a knowledge of English; accuracy; efficiency; ability to cooperate; and a desire to be of service, even at the cost of self sacrifice.

GIRLS RIFLE CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

University of Maine Chal- lenges "Kentucky" Girls

The Girls' Rifle Club of the University of Maine has challenged a similar club at the University of Kentucky to a match.

Miss Frances Jewell, Dean of Women and Miss Sarah Blanding, Athletic Coach for Women, are both favorable to the organization of such a club in the University.

Ten members are required for a team. All bona fide women students of the University will be eligible to the team, and will have access to the rifles that are used by the men students in the Department of Military Science.

The women of Northwestern University have a Rifle Team and one will soon be organized by the women of Columbia University.

Disagreements and Agree- ments Over Disarmament Question

The accomplishments of the disarmament conference are establishment of a naval ratio of five between the United States, England and Japan with smaller apportionment for France and Italy.

Formation of an alliance between United States, England, France and Japan.

Disagreement over the restriction of submarine construction.

No agreement as to limitation of fighting aircraft.

An agreement between the five nations to refrain from using poison gas in warfare.

"Tis An Ill Wind—"

A bill was recently introduced in the Kentucky House of Representatives which would levy a fee of $25 to be collected with each divorce proceeding the sum to be given to the University of Kentucky.

U. K. TRACK STARS HAVE HEAVY SPRING SCHEDULE

Clare, Champion S. I. A. A. Beam-tipper to Lead Blue and White Athletes

Track stars at the University of Kentucky will be given ample opportunity to show their mettle this season. An elaborate program is being outlined for the speed merchants by Athletic Director Boles and Coach Buchheit and with many of last season's point winners in camp a good season is anticipated.

First call for the knights of the winged foot was sounded Monday afternoon by Captain Clare and a band of fleet youngsters turned out by Daddy Boles is scheduling enough meets to make it worth while for the track performer. The only indoor contest in Kentucky will be staged in Louisville around March 10. This annual affair is held under the auspices of the Louisville Amateur Athletic Federation and attracts representatives from many of the larger Eastern universities as well as teams from the Kentucky colleges. University of Kentucky won first honors in the big indoor carnival last year and will make a determined effort to hang on to the laurels this season.

The first outdoor clash will be held on Stoll field early in April, with the Vanderbilt cinder chasers furnishing the opposition. On April 15, the Wildcats will go down to Knoxville for the Tennessee relays, a novel event in Southern athletic circles.

Coach Banks, of the University of Tennessee, is arranging the relays and they will be modeled after the famous Drake and University of Pennsylvania relays. All of the institutions in the South have been invited to enter teams in this meet.

Director Boles hopes to schedule a dual meet with the University of Tennessee on April 17 at Knoxville. As the spring vacation is on at that time Buchheit's men would not miss any scholastic work and the expenses of the team would be covered on their Southern jaunt. Few colleges in the country find track a paying proposition and depend upon foot ball receipts to carry the sport along.

A dual meet will be held in Lexington with Miami University on April 22. Two weeks later, May 6, University of Cincinnati tape-breakers will contest with the Wildcats on Stoll field.

The Southern intercollegiate meet will be staged at Baton Rouge, La., under the auspices of the Louisiana State University on May 13. The S. I. A. A. events were held in Atlanta last spring.

May 20 is the tentative date set for the State intercollegiate meet. The University of Kentucky officials have invited the other colleges to send their teams here for the field tournament.

Executive Committee Holds January Meeting

At the January meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, of the University, the suggestion of Judge R. C. Stoll, one of its members, that the formal opening of the new dormitory for men be made the occasion for the regular dedicatory service, and that the Legislature be invited to attend, was approved, by the committee.

Tentative plans are, to invite the Legislature to come to Lexington on the morning interurbans and railroads, have luncheon at one of the hotels, and in the afternoon adjourn to the University where the dedicatory program for the new dormitory will be held.

It was suggested that this plan will also give the Legislature a chance to investigate conditions on the campus, inasmuch as it has been called upon to adopt measures for financial relief of the University.

The dedication will probably be early in February.
